BROADWAY PLAY TO OPEN NINTH GUIGNOL SEASON

'Personal Appearance' Starts Monday Night for Week's Run; Curtain at 8:30 o'clock

GEORGE W. FITHIAN DIRECTS PRODUCTION

Patron Tickets Are Offered For Sale at Usual $3.00 Rate

Featuring a cast of ten student and faculty players, the University Guignol theatre will open its ninth season at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening with a presentation of Lawrence Riley's satire, "Personal Appearance."

George White Fithian, of the department of English, is directing the production in the place of Director Frank Fowler who is on leave this semester to study at Pasadena Community Playhouse in Pasadena, California. According to recent word, Mr. Fowler is now directing "Paths of Glory," the war story which recently enjoyed a long run on Broadway, for the Playhouse. He will return to his duties at the University next semester.

The cast of characters for the production is as follows: Aunt Kate Barnaby, Opal Palmer; Gladys Kelsay, Isabelle White; Joyce Struthers, Eleanor Rankin; Bud Norton, Dosselt Reid; Mrs. Struthers, Jean Abel; Clyde, Wallace Briggs; Jene Tuttle, Frank Willis; Johnson, Palmer Evans; Carole Arden, Jeanette Lampert Brown, and Jesse, Betty Oyler.

The usual offer on season tickets will be continued this year, according to Mrs. Lolo Robinson, business manager of the theatre. Under this offer, one may purchase a ticket for all five plays to be offered during both semesters for $3, thus saving 50 cents on each play. However, the student price of 35 cents with the ticket given each student at registration time is still in effect.

Coffee and sandwiches will be served in the lounge between acts of the play and hostesses will receive and serve the visitors. Those attending are also invited to attend the exhibit of American art being shown in the halls of the Art Center.

STUDENTS HEAR VASSAR HEAD

Dr. Henry N. McCracken Advocates a 'Bill of Rights' in Convocation Speech at Memorial Hall.

By THEO NADELSTEIN

Dr. Henry Noble McCracken, president of Vassar College, addressed faculty and students at the third convocation of the year on "The Students' Bill of Rights" Tuesday morning at Memorial hall. He was introduced by President McVey. The opening invocation was offered by Dr. Robert Miles of the First Presbyterian church.

The students' bill of rights, said Doctor McCracken, contains those obligations and rights of which students should be constantly reminded. Due to their docility, their dependence upon instructors, their willingness to be led in thinking, students forget their rights to maturity, and have a tendency to be too conventional, fearing departure from group opinion.

Doctor McCracken offered four items on the students' bill of rights. The first is the "right to be a student," which he defined as the right of every student to have access to facts and ideas, whatever they are; the right to read books; to travel as a student, to mingle with students of other countries; "The student has the same right to academic freedom as does the professor," the speaker said. "Professors have the Association of University Teachers to defend their right to academic freedom, but there is none for the student body." This includes the freedom of speech, of action, and of petition, which are the rights of every individual. Students should be given more choice in the arrangement of their

RYLAND DESCRIBES SPANISH TURMOIL

Speaking in French, Dr. Hobart Ryland, head of the department of romance languages, described his experiences in Spain this summer in his address to the Circle Francias which met at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the Woman's building.

Officers recently elected in the club are Eugene Thompson, president; Velma Hardesty, vice-president; Mrs. Briggs, secretary-treasurer, and Nancy Harrison, social chairman.

HUMOR STOPS WILDCAT BACKS

Honor Roll of Upper 10 Percent in Classification Examination Released by Professor Asher.

Results of the freshman classification tests given to all students entering the University for the first time were released by Prof. M. E. Asher of the department of psychology yesterday. The scores of these tests are used to classify entering freshmen in their English, mathematics, and psychology classes and they become a permanent part of each student's record at the University.

An honor roll of the highest 10 percent of the freshman class on each of the above tests has been compiled. Freshmen may secure their scores on the classification tests by calling at room 302, Neville hall, after 3 p. m.

Scoring in the highest 10 percent of all three tests were the following students: Jack Ballard, Frankfort; Denzil G. Barker, Hazard; Allen John Fulmer, Ft. Thomas; Kenneth Frederick Haynes, Louisville; J. Parker La Bach, Lexington; Preston L. Mansfield, Mumfordsville; Eloise Mayhugh, Walton; Nancy Noble, Hendersonville.

F. Edsel Penn, Maysville; Virginia Pettus, Stanford; Harold E. Pope, Victoria; John Albert Rassenfoss, Mt. Sterling; John Van Cleave Russell, Hopkinsville; David Sager, Lexington; Eldridge Snapp, Lexington; Alvin B. Stacey, London; Ben F. Van Sant, Mt. Victory; Harris C. Walker, Maysville; Robert J. Williams, Crofton, and William C. Wilson, Lexington.

Prizes Are Listed In Library Contest

Prizes of thirty and twenty dollars, respectively, will be awarded next spring to the best and second best personally owned and collected libraries of junior and senior students, by Judge Samuel M. Wilson, Lexington, the Student Library Prize committee, composed of Miss Margaret I. King, chairman; Prof. George K. Brady, and Prof. Thomas D. Clark, announced yesterday afternoon.

This will be the second contest sponsored by Judge Wilson, and will be judged on the basis of the student's choice and scope in collecting the library.

Fifty volumes will be the minimum number allowed to be submitted, and the library must be in the vicinity of Lexington during March, 1937, when the judging will take place. Lists of books may be submitted to Miss King at any time before next spring.

Henry Hornsby won the thirty dollars and Philip Haring the twenty dollar prize in the contest last year.

Kentuckian Photos To End Tomorrow

Today and Saturday are definitely the last days on which Kentuckian pictures will be taken in Memorial hall.

All those who have not been able to conform with the schedule are asked to give the matter their immediate attention.

There are many who have not yet had their pictures taken, and the organizations which they represent are asked to assist the Kentuckian by informing their members of this fact.

Four Cups to Be Given Amateur Contest Winners

Two Week Postponement Due To Prolonging Tryouts And Materials

Due to the prolonging of tryouts and the quantity of material to be presented, Strollers amateur night will be postponed for two weeks, it was announced by Sam Bowman, president.

All those who have been chosen for amateur night will please get in touch with Sam Bowman. This should be done as soon as possible.

Four cups will be awarded this year to the winners of the contests, namely, dramatics, instrumental and vocal. One of the dramatics cups will be awarded the winner of the girls' division of dramatics and one to the boys' division.

Portmann Appointed To Editorial Board

Prof. Victor R. Portmann, journalism department, has been appointed associate editor for Kentucky and Tennessee on the editorial board of "Best News Stories of 1935-36," an anthology to be compiled with Prof. Frank L. Mott, University of Iowa, as editor-in-chief.

Similar anthologies were printed in 1933 and 1934 and are used as text and reference books in many schools of journalism. Professor Portmann has asked the cooperation of newspapers in Kentucky and Tennessee in forwarding stories for possible inclusion in the book.

MEN, WOMEN TO BE OFFERED DANCING

Due to the interest shown by men students in the tap dancing classes sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., an opportunity for classes in which both men and women can be members is being offered next week.

Classes will start at 7 o'clock Tuesday, October 27, in the Woman's gym, under the direction of Virginia Dyer. They are priced at $1 for a series of five and 25 cents for one lesson. Private lessons will be given for 50 cents a lesson, and advanced classes will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the gymnasium.

Rhythm tap routines will be taught, and piano accompaniment will be offered by Carolyn Sigler. Further information concerning the classes may be obtained from Virginia Dyer, at Boyd hall, or at the Y. W. C. A. office in the Woman's building.

LAMP AND CROSS TO GIVE TRIP

Lamp and Cross, senior honorary for men, announces the awarding of a trip to Tennessee for the Kentucky-Tennessee game at Nashville, to the independent girl and the independent boy selling the greatest number of ODK football tags before November 26.

AG STUDENTS ENTER BEREJA JUDGING TEST

Berea College has invited the agricultural students of the University to participate in a livestock judging contest to be held in Berea Saturday, October 24.

The outstanding judge from the University will be awarded a new publication of Henry and Morrison's "Feeds and Feeding." Students entering the contest will leave the Agricultural building at 7 o'clock Saturday morning.

BEAUTY CONTEST PLANS RELEASED

Kentuckian to Present Winner of Beauty and Most Popular Man Contest at Dance November 21.

Plans for the 1937 Kentuckian beauty contest have been completed and November 21 has been chosen as the date for presentation of winners of the beauty contest and the most popular man at the dance to be sponsored by the Kentuckian. It was announced yesterday by editors of the yearbook.

Ernie Shovea, business manager, and John Morgan, sales manager, will have charge of the representatives in the contest. Each social organization may enter a candidate for the queen for every ten books sold. The boy and girl who sell the most yearbooks will each be presented with an individual plaque. The contest will close at 3 p. m. November 19.

The queen and her attendants will be selected at the dance and the most popular man will be chosen by popular ballot in an election conducted at the dance.

The 1937 Kentuckian sales campaign is now under way. Outstanding features include a reduction from $5 to $4 in the student price of the annual, and an arrangement whereby a $1 payment may be made at the time of the purchase and the balance of $3 paid later. However, if this procedure is not followed the price of the book will be $5.

Several new features will be introduced in the 1937 yearbook, including a completely revised snapshot section and the omission of advertisements altogether. A section of housemothers and pictures of fraternity and sorority houses will again be featured.

HOLMES ADDRESSES CLUB

Dean Sarah B. Holmes will speak to the University Dutch Lunch club at its regular meeting today at the Maxwell Street Presbyterian church.

PLAYGOERS MAY VIEW PRESENT EXHIBITION

Persons going to see the Guignol's new production "Personal Appearance" may also see an exhibition of accurate color prints of contemporary American paintings. This exhibition is in the hall of the Art Center. They were chosen by a jury of competent and established artists.

Board to Continue Florida 'Mum' Sale

Chrysanthemums for the Florida game will be on sale Saturday morning at the Lafayette hotel, the Phoenix drug store, and Dunn's drug store by members of Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary. Representatives will also sell them at Stoll field. Profits will be given to the student loan fund.

Prices for the flowers are: boutonniere, 25 cents; corsage, 50 cents; one medium sized "mum" with school colors, 50 cents; large "mum" with school colors, 75 cents; and two medium sized "mums" with school colors, $1.

Orders can be placed with any member of Mortar Board, and they will be delivered early Saturday morning.

RURAL SCHOOLS TO BE GUESTS OF UNIVERSITY

One Hundred Kentucky Students and Teachers Will Meet Here Today and Tomorrow

GLEE CLUBS COMPETE IN MEMORIAL HALL

Participants to See Florida Game Tomorrow Afternoon

One thousand students and teachers from rural schools in all parts of Kentucky will be the guests of the University today and tomorrow at the annual Rural School tournament sponsored by the University department of extension.

The visitors will be welcomed by Prof. J. D. Williams at the training school at 1:30 p. m. today, following a luncheon there in their honor, as guests of the University. As guests of the athletic department, the entire group will view the football game on Saturday.

Presiding at the Glee club event this morning at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall is Miss Iva Dagley, and judging the event are Miss Eudora South, and Mrs. Thomas J. Porter Jr. The declamatory events in the auditorium of the University training school at 1:30 p. m. will be in charge of Mr. Robert Sharon, superintendent of Kenton county schools, and Mr. Emory Rogers, superintendent of Mason county schools. The judges of the speeches are Mrs. Jesse E. Adams, Mrs. Robert Lund, Miss Grace Anderson, Prof. Gerald Langford, Prof. J. D. Williams, and Mr. E. Powell Lee.

The following schedule will be followed for the order of events of today and tomorrow:

Today—8 a. m.

Glee clubs in Memorial hall.

1:30 p. m.

Scholarship tests and declamatory events in the auditorium of University training school.

2:00 p. m.

Tour of the Training school, conducted by Training school teachers.

Tomorrow—8 a. m.

Athletic events at Stoll field.

2:00 p. m.

Football game at Stoll field.

While in Lexington the students and their faculty advisors will stay at the Phoenix hotel, which has made special arrangements for the two days of their stay.

Room Is Renovated For Hygiene Office

A room in the basement of the Administration building is at the present being renovated and partitioned into offices to serve as headquarters for a study of mental hygiene in Fayette and Scott counties.

This mental survey, which will require at least a year, will be supervised by Doctor Rogers, surgeon of the Public Health Service. The purpose of the study is to correctly ascertain the amount of feeble-mindedness in these counties.

The room is being divided into small offices and an anteroom. The construction should be completed within a week.

FAMOUS AUTORESS ADDRESSES WOMEN

An exhibit of books and stories written by Mrs. George Madden Martin, Louisville, who spoke Wednesday afternoon before the book review section of the University Woman's club in Patterson hall, is now on display in the lobby of the University library.

Mrs. Martin is the author of several successful novels, including "Emmy Lou," her first and most famous, "March On" and "Made in America." As vice-chairman for Kentucky in the women's organization for national prohibition, Mrs. Martin fought for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. She is also chairman of the Association of Southern Women for the Prevention of Lynching.

LIGION VISITS SCHOOLS

Dr. M. E. Ligon, state chairman for the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, is visiting schools that are members of the association this week. The group includes Harlan, Pineville, Benham, Alva, Middlesboro, Barabarasville, Corbin, and Williamsburg.

UNIVERSITY 4H CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The University 4-H club held its first regular meeting of the semester last Friday evening at the stock judging pavilion with George Kurtz, president, presiding. Other officers of the club are: Mamie Hart, vice-president, and Beverly Richards, secretary-treasurer. Plans are being made by the club to present a one-act play which is to be given during Farm and Home week. The play will be directed by Katherine Warren.

Strong Florida Team Will Face Wildcats In Battle Tomorrow

Tigert Telegraphs To Doctor McVey

The following telegram was received by President McVey yesterday from Dr. John J. Tigert, President of the University of Florida and also president of the Southeastern Conference:

"Mrs. Tigert and I regret we will be unable to come to Lexington this week-end. We remember the splendid hospitality accorded us last year and would be happy to come. This is a legislative year for us and we are making up budgets. We trust the game will be a good one and are sure our boys will enjoy Kentucky hospitality."

PAJAMA PARADE TO HEAD RALLY

Giant Pre-Game Pep Meeting To Be Held by Sukey at 7:30 O'clock Tonight in Alumni Gymnasium.

Featuring the annual freshman pajama parade, new yells, music by the University band, and a public address system to facilitate direction of the program, Sukey, campus pep organization, will sponsor a pep meeting for the Florida game at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Alumni gymnasium.

Two prizes, tickets to the Sukey dance tomorrow night, will be awarded in the pajama contest, one for the most comical pair and one for the loudest pair of pajamas. Freshmen are urged to get their freshmen to compete.

After a program of yells and music, the contestants will be marched around the gymnasium and the winners picked. The parade will then proceed to the downtown district, led by the band, and will stop in front of the Phoenix and Lafayette hotels for special yells.

Tentative plans for a homecoming pep rally and for the annual house decoration contest were discussed at a meeting of the Circle held Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the Alumni gymnasium. Pep meeting plans include special numbers by the band, talks by President McVey, Coach Wynne and assistants, members of the varsity and prominent alumni, a parade downtown, and a bonfire where all freshmen caps will be burned in accordance with a decision by the Men's Student Council.

European Visitors Tour Blue Grass

A group of forty-one German and Hungarian agricultural leaders who are touring the United States to inspect methods of farming, stock-raising, and the sale and development of agricultural products, were visitors on the campus Wednesday and were conducted on a tour of the University and blue-grass farms by professors W. D. Nichols and W. S. Anderson of the College of Agriculture.

Dr. Friedrich Sohn of Berlin was in charge of the group, who came here from St. Louis, Mo., after extensive travels through the lake region, Canada, and Western United States. The party is sponsored by the "Landpost," leading agricultural journal of Germany. Doctor Sohn expressed appreciation for the manner in which his party had been received and entertained in America.

SONG FETE SCHEDULED

A community sing, the fourth event in a series of student forums conducted during the past few weeks, will be held at 6:30 o'clock Sunday at Maxwell Street Presbyterian church under the sponsorship of the young people's group.

SuKy to Sponsor Saturday Nite Hop

SuKy, campus pep organization, will sponsor a dance tomorrow night from 9 until 12 o'clock in the Alumni gymnasium.

Andy Anderson and his orchestra will furnish music, and the dance will be formal for girls. Admission will be 50 cents per couple. Chaperones for the dance are Pres. and Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Maj. and Mrs. B. E. Brewer, Dean T. T. Jones, Dean Sarah Blanding, Dean Sarah Holmes, Dean and Mrs. Paul Boyd, Prof. and Mrs. Freeman, Coach and Mrs. Chet Wynne, Dean W. S. Taylor, Prof. Carl Lampert, and John Lewis.

Wynne Charges Are Intact As Johnson and Sands Return; Game to Start At 2 o'clock

VISITORS REPORTED TO HAVE BIG TEAM

Coleman and Hodge Expected To Start; Skaggs Is Injured

Without undue fear, yet not quite sure, Kentucky's Wildcats are ready to meet the Gators from the University of Florida at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon on Stoll field. Advance reports from the men who scouted Florida state that it is the biggest team Kentucky has faced this year.

Coach Wynne has run his charges through a very thorough week's practice after giving the team a holiday on Monday for the first time this season. All is peaceful in the Wildcat's lair.

From down in Florida comes the report that the Gators are not doing so well in practice against Kentucky's plays. They are blocking poorly, the report says.

Poor blocking on the part of Florida should just about even things up in that department, for Kentucky hasn't been turning in such wonderful blocking either. But on Wednesday when the 'Cats played against Florida plays as used by the frosh they did all right. The second stringers, on the defensive, allowed the frosh to gain the length of the field on them before Wynne sent in the regulars to stop them.

On Tuesday afternoon Earl Sands reported back for practice and was reinstated. His first team position, however, was filled by Walter Hodge, who is expected to start in Saturday's game. On the same afternoon Bert Johnson appeared on the field in civilian clothes for a short talk with Chet Wynne. As he left the field, he told reporters that he would be in uniform the following day. Wynne says Johnson never was suspended, but was out with an injured knee. His place on the first team is being held down by Tommy Coleman, who will start Saturday.

Injuries on the squad are minor bruises, with the exception of Skaggs, who is on the hospital list and probably will not start in Saturday's game. He is suffering from a dislocated vertebrae which prevents him from standing up. The injury is not responding to treatment as was hoped.

HERE SHALL THE KERNEL ALL STUDENT RIGHTS MAINTAIN

A FINE PRECEDENT

The announcement by Omicron Delta Kappa that it intends to start a precedent among the dance-giving organizations on the campus by obtaining well-known dance orchestras, and at the same time, keeping down the admission fee, is a laudable one and it was heard on the campus with much rejoicing.

For many reasons, the music that University prom-goers have danced to in the past has not been up to the standard set by many and less noted institutions. With the signing of the campus leaders' contract to secure a nationally known band, a new era in the social life here may be dawning.

If the organizations which have commercial dance dates this fall will begin working now they may be able to get bands which will help to raise the social prestige of the University as well as that of their own group.

We hope they take the hint.

WORTHY REQUEST

The two organizations on the University campus known as the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

are making a bid for financial support during the next few weeks, in their annual membership drive. Both deserve the utmost in support and cooperation from the student body, as well as from the faculty.

The majority of us are prone to assent and to praise their achievements in a rather lackadais-ical manner, simply accepting them at their face value and giving little genuine thought to the territory covered by the various groups in each.

Both seek to aid the bewildered freshman and to help him to begin his college career successfully. Further than this, they contact him all along the way and present him with projects or subjects for his interest and broadening knowledge. One person may be imbued with the idea of becoming a social service worker; another, with the idea of studying art or crafts. The one is admittedly the direct antithesis of the other;

two types more diametrically different could not be found. Yet the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W.

C. A. take care of all, regardless of the object.

Both organizations are organized even to the most minute detail; most clubs of this type generally only believe themselves to be organized, but have serious flaws in their make-up. The construction of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C.

A. could scarcely be improved upon.

The foregoing statements might be mere propaganda in the face of the ensuing membership drive were it not that they are all quite true. President McVey says, "These organizations have done an effective and influential work. From my observations, I would say that they are doing more and better work than they have done in the past."

Andy Anderson to Play For Suky Dance In Gym Tomorrow Evening at 9

Delta Zeta to Celebrate for Founders' Day Tomorrow in Louisville

The annual Suky dance will be held from 9 to 12 Saturday night in the Alumni gym. Andy Anderson and his orchestra will provide the music.

The chaperones will be President and Mrs. McVey, Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Brewer, Dean T. T. Jones, Dean Sarah Blanding, Dean Sarah Holmes, Dean and Mrs. Paul Boyd, Professor and Mrs. W. E. Freeman, and Coach and Mrs. Chet Wynne.

Admission will be fifty cents a couple.

Delta Zeta Founders' Day

A Founders' day luncheon and initiation will be the features of the semi-annual meeting of the Delta Zeta sorority to be held Saturday at the Kentucky hotel, Louisville. Representatives from Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee, and Ohio will be present.

Miss Edith Woodburn, president of the Alpha Theta chapter, University of Kentucky, and Miss Juanita Carmen, president of the Beta Gamma chapter, University of Louisville, will officiate at the initiation ceremony at 3 p. m.

Mrs. John M. Coleman, Loveland, Ohio, one of the four living founders of the sorority, and Miss Irene Boughton, national president, will be guests of honor at the luncheon.

The sorority was founded October 24, 1902, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, with the assistance of Dr. Guy Potter Benton, a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Elizabeth Dietrich, Maysville, and Charlotte Percival, Covington, will be initiated into the Lexington chapter, and Marie Scazo, Cincinnati, and Norma Cox into the Louisville chapter.

After the initiation services, the members of the Lexington chapter will be guests of honor at a house dance given by the Louisville chapter.

Those from Lexington who are planning to attend are Dorothy Santen, Marlan Mehler, Dixie Abram, Ruth Weatherford, Mary Neal Walden, Marie Snyder, Elizabeth Doyle, Susan Price, Ruth Hamersley and Marine Mays.

The local Alumni chapter will be represented by Misses Hollis Huddle, Sarah Thorn, and Mrs. E. P. Huston.

Sara Gentry spent the week-end at her home in Harrodsburg and attended the homecoming game at Centre Saturday.

Shop Sights

By BETTY EARLE

This week we're all interested in the opening of Keeneland, the most beautiful race track in the country, so how about keeping up with everyone else and decking yourself out to suit what's going on!

Baynam's has some good-looking Laird and Schrober shoes for the occasion and even has them all labeled for you. One is called the "Keeneland"—a pump of dark brown suede with a London tan trim just where you're most likely to "scuff" the toes—we still haven't grown up enough to avoid that!

Tiny kid bows of the same shade relieve the plainness, and the heels are a high medium. Another model is called "Post Time." The combination of colors and materials is similar to the "Keeneland."

The strap is broad and fastens with a dull gold buckle. One of the newest numbers is the "Highland Monk," an oxford of the latest cut, a little more conservative than that of the Alpine shoes shown by Harper's Bazaar. They are of Shetland hide, the rough,

The following went to Washington and Lee over the week-end to attend the football games and dances: Taber Brewer, Donald Brown, Logan Brown, Franklin Dryden, Lewis Haggin, Herbert Hillenmeyer, Laban Jackson, Terry Taylor, Edmond Thompson, Frank Dutton, John Greathouse, and Bill Duty.

The following were out of town during the week-end: Jack Evans, Cincinnati; Harry Wilson, Irvine; Dossett Reid and Richard Chauvet, Burkesville.

Evelyn Flowers was a dinner guest Sunday at the house.

Luncheon guests Monday were Margaret Greathouse, Emmy Haggin, and Pattie Field Van Meter.

Charlotte Briggs was entertained for lunch Tuesday.

Dinner guests at the house during the week were Virginia Alsop, Willette Bruner, Nancy Orrell, and Irene Sparks.

hair type which is very smart as well as durable.

For the men Baynam's suggests heavy English brogues of Scotch grain Norwegian calf. The choice of colors is yours, fellows.

To go from one extreme to the other we took a look at hats next. Wolf-Wile's are making a feature of the "Knock-Knock" hat! It will fold so you may carry it anywhere with perfect ease and comfort, turns up or down, just as you please, is trimmed with a bright feather, and comes in brown, blue, gray, black or green. If you prefer a turban, there is a wide variety of them for you. One was a brown felt with a small bill, a sort of Alpine hat. Perched precariously on said bill was a small veil (it won't get in your eyes, cause it's for decorative purposes only) with two little tails of fur to hold it in place. Perhaps you'd like better the velvet turban tucked up in the front to hold a long pheasant feather.

Believe it or not, it does get chilly these fall nights, and the time's comin' when you'll wish you had a good warm coat! Just travel down to Shipp's and pick out one of their fine Kragshire's, exclusive at this shop. Kragshire's are noted for their warmth, their lengthy service, and last of all, their plaid backs—that means the linings are of Scotch plaid throughout. Many are surmounted by heavy quilted silk in the upper half. The coat material itself is of plaids, checks, or plain designs. One we particularly liked was of Oxford gray with four pockets cleverly fashioned into pleats and a two-buttoned loose belt in the back.

Whether you are fond of bridge or not (and most men aren't), gentlemen, you can't help liking the "New Trump" shirt manufactured by Arrow and sponsored by Graves-Cox! It's a completely new version of a very popular shirt, has a soft collar you'll feel comfortable in all day, not only because it is soft, but also because you'll know you look as fittin' as when you put it on. It won't flare up and it won't curl! The "New Trump" has Arrow's famous Mitoga form-fit design and is Sanforized-Shrunk. In addition, the patterns are the "last word" in the new fall stripes and checks.

Attention, girls—it's hot news we've stumbled on this week! How would you like to win free a year's supply (eight pairs) of Paris Fashion shoes? Just finish to the sentence, I like Paris Fashion Shoes because — because what? Miller's shoe department will give you an entry blank, and the easy rules. One hundred women throughout the country will win a year's supply of Paris Fashion shoes, who finish the above sentence in 25 words or less. Get your entry blank today or tomorrow, and submit it before December 15 at Miller's Shoe Department, 216 West Main street!

250 Rhodes Ave. Ph. 1940-X
Univ. P. O. Box No. 1764

Upon receiving verbal quizzing from Prof. Knapp in class Thursday, to her embarrassment and the enjoyment of the class, Stanley Elizabeth Olay admitted that it made a whole of a difference whether a boy took the girl to the Kentucky or the Opera House. Who was it said girls had refused to be mercenary?

Working out at Kenneland on the pari-mutuels is not a money-making proposition if all of them are like Moose McLoney. After his first day (makes $6 a day) he had to pay for $8 worth of tickets he had punched out by mistake.

Although we promised to say nothing of the trip to Washington and Lee, one little incident is too good to keep a secret any longer. As the story goes, a boy, under the influence of intoxicating liquors, had been trying to pin Frances Woods the whole week-end. Finally, in desperation after receiving no encouragement, he slipped up behind her and pinned her on the back of her dress. Crying out to the world that he had succeeded in his life's mission, he keeled over and was out for twenty-four hours.

Model Co-Ed To Be Announced by Firm Next Week

Dear Co-Ed.

The first winners of the model contest sponsored by the Mitchell, Baker, Smith Co. will be announced next Friday, October 30.

It is not too late to get in on this unique offer. Simply print your name and address, height, weight, waist measurement and the size shoe you wear on a card and deposit the card in box provided for this purpose in the post office. You can obtain these cards at the following places: Mitchell, Baker, Smith shoe department, Cedar Village, Patterson Hall, Boyd Hall, and the Woman's building.

Don't forget, the co-ed who's measurements are most like the model selected will receive first prize, a pair of $5.00 Connie shoes absolutely free. The next prize will be a $3.00 bag and the third prize will be a $1.00 pair of chiffon hose. —Adv.

curricula, continued Doctor McCracken. They have a right to confer with their professors, to choose what, where, and how they will study.

The second item in the students' bill of rights, said Doctor McCracken, is the right to know himself. Students do not know the laws of either physical or mental health, and have not enough knowledge of modern psychology and clinical psychology. "It is the obligation of every university to furnish this knowledge," he continued. "Students should be made to realize the resources of their schools in these matters."

The right of the student to support himself was the third right expounded by Doctor McCracken. He advocates an organization which will offer financial aid to those students who need it, such as the student banks in Denmark and Sweden, from which students may borrow on their word, and to which other students contribute. Information concerning scholarships and loans for students should be disseminated through the country so that students may avail themselves of such help.

The last item in the students' bill of rights, according to Doctor McCracken, is his right to govern himself. "Students," he said, "should have a share of government in the whole institution. They should have the use of the college as a model state, and should have an understanding of wages, sources of funds, and financial arrangements. The opinion of students should be taken seriously; they should have conferences with faculty and trustees; they should organize in groups to maintain their rights," Doctor McCracken said in conclusion.

KENTUCKY GRADUATE ACCEPTS NEW POST

The "First Voters' League" had a meeting Tuesday night in room 111, McVey hall, and the following officers were elected: E. W. Salisbury, president; Dewey Miller, vice-president; and Christine Bryson, secretary-treasurer. The purpose of the league is to foster and promote interest in the younger voters in current political and economic problems. The next meeting is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Monday, Oct. 26, at the same place and all University students are invited to attend.

PORTMANN TO CONVENTION

Prof. Victor R. Portmann of the department of journalism will leave this afternoon for Louisville to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Kentucky Press Association to be held in the Brown hotel. The conference will last until Saturday noon.

More Ways Than One To Spend Your Money

By LESLIE LEE JONES
You may not know it, but those crisp dollar bills that you have just received from the folks back home, and the small, round, silver coins that jingle so merrily in your pocket or purse, have just about as good a chance of staying there, when you walk from the campus down South Limestone to town, as butter has a hot knife.

How much sales resistance have you? One has to have will power to pass the fifteen different shops, stores, and establishments that lie in wait along the way to inveigle the quarter, half dollar, or dollar from you. Of course, you probably start down town from the University with no intention at all of spending any money until you are well within the hustle of town. First of all, if you're a boy, the striped pole of the barber's shop swirls ever so menacingly to have you come in and get the latest in haircuts, guaranteed to make you look like a real-life version of Robert Taylor. If you aren't stopped there, only next door is a dandy place to have a ham-on-eye or coke. It may be that you prefer the drug store two doors down, but while you are on the way there, a dry cleaning establishment has hanging in its windows two or three signs to remind you of the lounging robe or dress that needs cleaning. After passing another dry cleaning shop, you have a breathing spell for a change. But there is more to come.

You cross the street and find yourself glancing into the fascinating window of an antique shop, which has everything on display from a wine pitcher and goblets of Bohemian glassware to oil paintings of American and English thoroughbreds. If you have $1000 to invest in an antique just step inside and the proprietor will proudly show you a genuine Duncan Phyle table.

A bakery, with cakes and rolls that simply ooze with goodness, a fruit stall with everything fruity from alligator pears to grapefruits, a shop shop, luggage store, a musical instrument and radio shop, which sells all the latest songs, a sports guild for co-eds, where the girls never fail to linger, and two jewelry stores with sparkling, expensive window displays conclude this array of shops that are out, first, last and always to get your money. So watch your step, and go another way to town, if you're easily tempted.

Two hundred University of Minnesota students are facing suspension for allowing others to use their fee statements to purchase football tickets.

Sixty-seven members are enrolled in the South Dakota university band.

Women do not make bum newspapermen but they make bums out of a lot of them says the Creightonian.

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1936

NEW SERIES NO. 11

SEEING SPORT STUFF

By JOE QUINN
KERNEL SPORTS EDITOR

With half of their schedule behind them, Kentucky's footballers make ready to face Coach Josh Cody's Florida Gators tomorrow afternoon on Stoll Field. The last half, and the toughest portion, of the campaign remains with the Wildcats battling .800 in their first five trips to the plate.

Coach Wynne's eleven has defeated Maryville, Xaxier, V. M. I., and Washington and Lee. And as most of you are aware, our club was taken into camp by Georgia Tech. On the surface of it, the record is not an awe-inspiring one.

Three of the four vanquished foes were fairly good teams while Maryville provided as much opposition as could be expected from a team of its class. Yet when faced with an opponent of our own standing we "missed the boat." But it is not time to be calling the season a failure and a waste of time yet.

Alabama, Manhattan and Tennessee are yet to come. While none of these three teams are apt to win the national championship, a victory over all of them, would go a long way toward regaining some of the lost Wildcat prestige. And it is not at all impossible.

Kentucky's team is always a threat. It's true that the 'Cats are a hard team to figure but the potentialities are there and they are ever dangerous.

That Georgia Tech defeat may have kindled a new spirit in the boys and the game last week indicated that the shakeup in the lineup didn't hurt things at all, but rather improved the quality of play.

So, starting with the 'Gators tomorrow, Kentucky begins the second half trek. And they can yet make the season a success.

More Dotted Lines . . . When you take in the Florida game tomorrow, you'll have the opportunity of hearing a 95-piece musical unit rockin' through "The Organ-Grinder Swing" and don't scoff if someone tells you that it's "The Best Band in Dixie" . . . Professor Neil Plummer of the department of journalism was slightly unhappy when we failed to give the local Wildcats credit for being the champions of Lexington, Va. . . after they had disposed of V. M. I. and Washington and Lee . . . Coach Rupp has only 18 candidates aspiring for varsity basketball berths . . . but the number will be swelled when Jim Goforth, Duke Ellington, Red Hagan, Fred Curtis, Walter Hodge and Lawrence Garland report after the football season . . . C. W. Hackensmith has his touch football competition well underway and the intramural athletes seem to be going for it in a large fashion . . . there are plenty of reserved bleacher seats left for the Alabama game but the stands have been completely sold out already.

And now, here we are back down at the prognosticating department after acting sane for two years and keeping our choices out of the paper. These selections were arrived at without the help of Captain "Stosh" Nevers. And when we don't have his assistance there is a fine chance of our being right. Without any further ado, then, let's shove off into the schedule.

Carnegie Tech-Holy Cross . . . The Crusaders covered up after scoring two touchdowns on Manhattan and should be able to take Tech.

Columbia-Michigan . . . Lou Little's Lions appear stronger this year than they've been for a long while and will add to Kipke's Michigan woe.

Fordham-St. Mary's . . . The powerful Ram line should be able to hold Madigan's Maudraiders at bay this time.

Georgetown-N. Y. U. . . While neither team is a world-beater, Georgetown's Hoyas seem to have the edge.

Marquette-Michigan State . . . Two of the Mid-West's better squads tangle here, with the State team looking a little more powerful.

Minnesota-Purdue . . . Minnesota is bound to lose one sooner or later but probably not to Purdue.

Mississippi State-Texas Christian . . . The Christians, with Sammy

Kentucky has played the Florida Alligators four times and has won three of the four. Florida took their one game 27-6 in 1927. The largest score rolled up by either team is the 52-0 scored by Kentucky.

Knute Rockne, late coach of Notre Dame, started coaching in 1918 and from 1918-1930 Notre Dame won 105 games, lost 12 and tied 5.

Princeton's loss to Pennsylvania 7-0 last week was the first loss for them since 1934 when they lost to Yale by the same score.

Minnesota, by routing Michigan 26-0, gained its twentieth consecutive victory, tying the old mark held by Notre Dame made in 1919-20-21.

"Red" Weaver, Centre College, in 1919-20 kicked 90 consecutive points after touchdowns.

Probably the longest run ever made was by "Snooks" Dowd who ran 210 yards for a touchdown in the Lehigh and Lafayette game. He became confused, ran in wrong direction, circled around his own goal post and then ran the length of the field to score.

It is estimated that 40,000 people saw the Wildcats' four home games last year and that 40,000,000 people paid admission to see football games throughout the country. The average admission price was one dollar.

The highest rate of pay for fighters went to Jack Dempsey when he fought Firpo in 1923. Firpo lasted three minutes and fifty-eight seconds and Dempsey was paid about 120,000 dollars per fighting minute.

Louisiana State, one of the best teams in the Southeastern conference, has played Texas Christian on three occasions with fields goals playing an important part in each game. In 1931 Texas Christian won 3-0; they tied 3-3 in 1932; and in 1935 Texas Christian again won 2-2.

G. H. Dobie's football teams from 1905 to 1916 did not lose a game. He coached Minneapolis High (1905); North Dakota Aggies (1906-07) and University of Washington (1908-16).

First forward pass ever thrown by Yale scored a touchdown and beat Harvard 6-0 in 1906. The pass was legalized the same year.

Baugh pitching, figure to outscore Ralph Sasse's smart State team.

Navy-Princeton . . . Both clubs have met defeat but Princeton will rebound this week to take it out on the Middles.

Notre Dame-Pittsburgh . . . Here's one we'd like to avoid. A toss-up and we'd call a tie game.

Harvard-Dartmouth . . . Looks like the easiest pickings of the day to say Dartmouth . . . we hope so.

Stanford-Southern California . . . The Trojans to beat last year's Rose Bowlers.

Tennessee-Duke . . . Them Blue Devils are tough.

Auburn-Georgia . . . The Plainsmen have the power.

Vanderbilt-Georgia Tech . . . Tech is certain to come back against Ray Morrison's hapless club.

KENTUCKY-FLORIDA . . . and here it's the Wildcat clawing the 'Gator.

Enemy Camps

Hearts beat slower and breath comes easier to Wildcat followers, now that the University of Kentucky footballers have safely passed the first obstacle in their comeback path. Understanding comes easier to those who have experienced defeat and had to face the hard road back to prominence, but all of us know the difficulties the Big Blue team faces and we will be pulling for them in fair weather or foul.

Down in Florida, Josh Cody's charges overwhelmed Stetson, 32 to 0. The Gators, who will tangle with the Wildcats this Saturday on Stoll field, flashed a brand new attack which completely dazzled their opponents. Although picked to be one of the weakest teams in the Southeastern Conference, the Floridians are on the up grade and will be gunning for Kentucky. Changing an adage about, somewhat: the 'Cats had better watch themselves because there is many a slip between the kick-off and the gun.

In one of the hardest fought games in the nation, the Tennessee Volunteers held the favored Alabama Crimson Tide to a scoreless tie. The game was chiefly a punting duel between Phil Dickens of Tennessee and Joe Riley, Alabama's stellar halfback, with Riley averaging 42 yards per try and Dickens averaging 41. Alabama threatened seriously in the last minute of the first half, when Riley came within a yard of crossing the double stripe. The whistle ended the period before another play could be run.

A dangerous opponent who threatens to hand Kentucky its second defeat of the season, the Crimson Tide, will play a "breather" with Loyola this week-end so that the team can point for the tussle with the Big Blue.

Tennessee has another tough one to handle this Saturday. The Vols will meet Duke's undefeated Blue Devils, who just walloped Georgia Tech 19 to 6. The Volunteers are given little chance over the powerful Devils, but if they play the same inspired ball that they did against Alabama, they may knock off another of the South's leading contenders for national honors.

Manhattan was the victim of a vengeful Holy Cross outfit, who took the Meehan charges over the bumps to the tune of a 14 to 7 score. By knocking them from the underfeated ranks, the Crusaders took revenge on the Jaspers for being last year's Holy Cross team and ruining an otherwise perfect season for it.

Clemson went down under the attack of a hard fighting Wake Forest eleven 6 to 0. Picked as one of the strongest contenders for the Southern Conference crown, the Tigers have shown little of the strength which was supposed to be theirs.

Building contracts in Florida for the first seven months of 1936 totaled $41,341,000.

Bob Davis Leads Nation's Scorers

Bob Davis is threatening to run away with national scoring honors for the 1936 football season. The Kentucky flash scored two more touchdowns against Washington and Lee to give him 66 points in his first five games. With the season only half over, Bob has already tied his scoring record of last season. Five of his eleven touchdowns have been scored on runs ranging from 45 to 83 yards.

Fullback Dick Weisberger, of Williamette, is Bob's closest rival. Even so, he is 17 points behind with a total of 49 points. Cecil Isbell, of Purdue's Boiler-makers, is third in the scoring race with 44 points.

INTRAMURAL

By BILLY EVANS

For the first time since the inauguration of intramurals on the University of Kentucky campus, touch football has been adopted as a team sport. There are fourteen teams entered in the fraternity division, several independent organizations, and the R. O. T. C. unit teams complete the list of entrants.

In the games played to date the Phi Sigis defeated the K. A.'s, the Delta won over the Triangles, and the Lambda Chis and Phi Deltis were victorious over the Kappa Sigis and Alpha Gamma Rhos, respectively. The Sigma Chis and the A. T. O.'s won their initial starts via the forfeit route over the Delta Chis and the Sigma Phi Epsilon representatives.

Double Tournery

It is the plan of the department to have a double elimination tournament, whereby each team although defeated, enters the consolation bracket and competes with teams that have also been defeated once. The winner of this consolation tournament will play the winner of the other half of the tournament for the fraternity championship. With this plan in operation, a team must lose two games before it is out of the tournament.

There have been too few games played to accurately determine the relative strength of the various contenders. Grouped together in the upper bracket are the usually strong S. A. E.'s, Sigma Chis, and Phi Taus with little to choose between them judging from the practice sessions of each group. The Deltis and Phi Deltis appear to have the best chances of advancing in the lower half.

The feature game of the week will bring the Sigma Chis and the S. A. E. together. These age-old rivals in intramurals will probably clash Friday at 4 p. m. The winner should be the coming champion of touch football.

All semi-final matches in horse-shoe, tennis, and golf doubles are due on Friday, Oct. 23, unless postponed because of inclement weather. The quarter-final round of the same sports in singles is due on the same day.

Reporter Gives Theory on Picking Football Winners

By LOUIS HAYNES

Do you want to know the surest way to pick the winner of any of Kentucky's football games? If you do all you have to do is to read the Thursday morning Herald or the afternoon Leader.

Practically always, if the Wildcats show up good on the Wednesday practice, which is the big practice of the week, they will usually look much worse in the coming game on Saturday. However, on the other hand, if the first team should let the frosh run over them at will you can almost bet your bottom dollar on them in the next game. They rarely miss winning if they have a bad session.

Injuries hurt this system of picking the winner, thus we will forget the games that are played without many of the star players. Some games the team will win even with many of the first team out, but the majority of games will find them on the losing side if they have very many injuries.

In the past two seasons and including the present one, there have been occasions on which they do the reverse of the Wednesday practice. There have been five occasions on which they do just as good or better than on Wednesday. Remember these games counted do not include the games played with the stars out.

On five different Wednesdays the first team look fine, the backs ripped off touchdowns runs on almost every play and the linemen never looked better. They were getting their man out of the way on every play, clearing the way for the fleet-footed backfield so that they could romp at will.

A startling example of this is the Wednesday practice before the Georgia Tech game of this year. On four plays the first team scored four touchdowns and the freshmen did not have a chance. We all know what happen in the game the following Saturday.

Against Maryville we looked bad in practice before the game, but in three years, playing them the first game, we have beaten them 26-0, 60-0, and 54-0. This year we knew about the first team, but were uneasy as to the caliber of the second stringers.

Probably the outstanding example is the Ohio State tilt of last year. In practice the Cats looked terrible trying to block the freshmen's passes and the defense was not so good, yet the Cats played one of the best games of the season, losing 19-6, but they were expected to lose by six touchdowns. The last two years just before engaging Xavier they have looked fair, or the reserve strength was not over-brilliant, but they have managed to win each time. There have been other occasions, but they are not so important.

Now when you get ready to pick the winner don't forget to read the paper on Thursday. This will tell the winner of the game-to-be three out of four times.

A matchlessly accurate statistician at West Virginia University claims that you can buy 67,200 safety matches for the amount it would cost you to buy a good cigarette lighter.

Fall registration at Minnesota U. reached 13,729 with about twice as many men enrolled as women. This is an increase of 770 students over last year.

'PIERRE,' OLD ADMINISTRATION BUILDING JANITOR, REMINISCES

By BILLY HOPEWELL

Since I am an amateur at interviewing, I hardly knew how to start out to get Pierre Whiting, the oldest janitor on the campus, "to talk," but the advice I had been given was always have several questions ready to pop to the person and then after the conversation, begin to do most of the listening, and with this in mind I began my errand.

I was directed to Pierre's small private room in the basement of the Administration building. Seated in his cushioned chair he gave me a warm and friendly greeting, making me feel right at home and our conversation was just like any other ordinary one.

Although many people know that he is the oldest janitor on the campus, few know just how long he has been here, so my first question was, "How long have you been in service on the campus and how did you first get started?" This must have started the wheel rolling because he began and I interrupted him very little.

"I came here about 49 years ago," Pierre stated, "and carried water for the men who were building the Administration building and White Hall. Several years after the buildings were completed I was a janitor in White Hall which was then a boys' dormitory."

When I asked Pierre about the late President Patterson, he held up two fingers and said, "We grew up like that."

"One morning the president and I were going to town," Pierre remarked. "I had hitched the horse to the buggy and had gone back for Mr. Patterson. As we walked down to the buggy we saw a group of boys playing ball on a vacant lot near-by. All the upper classmen knew they were disobeying orders, but there was a freshman in the crowd who didn't know to run. The boy was told to report to the office the next morning at nine o'clock and was given a 'go in' over." He was always strict on the boys but he gave them a chance to redeem their acts."

I asked how the present students differ from the students at the time when he was a janitor in the boys' dormitory. He grinned and told me that there was much more "devilment" then than there is now. "They used to get a mule and take it upstairs where they held chapel in what is now the geology museum. One halloween night the boys went out in the country several miles and got a buggy. Taking it apart they carried it to the top of the Administration building and when morning came it was on the roof assembled. In Neville hall the boys used to take several coal boxes, stack them on top of each other, and tumble them down the steps, coal flying everywhere.

"Students were more friendly then than they are now," stated Pierre. "I was in closer contact with them and while I was caretaker in the dormitory I 'mothered' many of the boys who are now professors on the campus. Dean Jones was one of these boys. The student body seems to be more 'social' now and have a better time than they did several years ago."

The clock was moving on to the time for my next class and as I left Pierre in his room I recalled the poem, "To the Janitors," by Cotton Noy that is dedicated to "Charlie, Armistead, Tom, and Dear Pierre," in which he spoke of them as "sons of toll crown gray, in honest service day by day. They knew this school in swaddling clothes, they've seen it flourish like a rose."

Archery is just about over. Next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday are tournament days. . . you have to shoot twenty arrows to compete in the tournament, and even though it has been stated before—to the fair young Robin Hood who makes the highest score, goes an engraved arrow . . . something that every girl ought to strive for as a memory of her college days. . . The hockey practices are coming along fine, as yet no serious injuries, such as cracked shins have resulted . . . a few days more of preliminary practice and we will be ready to play a game. Oh . . . something exciting—a firm that makes archery equipment is running a contest for a name to the little handbook they publish. The girl who is lucky enough to choose or select the winning name will get prizes worth $12.00. If you are interested stop in Miss Averill's office and find out what it is all about. . . The horseback riding and hike are called off Saturday afternoon, so all of you will have a chance to go out and yell for the football team when they meet Florida. Our membership drive is coming along fine . . . remember before you are entitled to receive your points your dues must be paid. . . Here's the news that every one of you have been waiting for . . . rifle practice is going to start soon, that is, in about twenty days. Nov. 16 there will be a mass meeting in the Women's gym for all those who wish to shoot this year.

Our coach this year is Sidney Kelly. . . He is a senior in advanced military and a member of Pershing Rifles. So all of you jot that date down in your date book and be at the gym for the first big meeting.
